NOTES

Applications

Community broadcasting licences are in force for 5 years.

An application for renewal of a community broadcasting licence is expected to be lodged one year before the licence is due to expire.

Applications should contain sufficient relevant information to enable the ACMA to conduct an assessment against the considerations at section 84(2) of the Broadcasting Services Act 1992.

In deciding whether to allocate a community broadcasting licence, that is a broadcasting services bands licence, to an applicant or to one of a group of applicants, the ACMA is to have regard to:

- (a) the extent to which the proposed service or services would meet the existing and perceived future needs of the community within the licence area of the proposed licence
- (b) the nature and diversity of the interests of that community
- (ba) the extent to which the proposed service or services would provide material of local significance
- (c) the nature and diversity of other broadcasting services (including national broadcasting services) available within that licence area
- (d) the capacity of the applicant to provide the proposed service or services
- (e) the undesirability of one person being in a position to exercise control of more than one community broadcasting licence that is a broadcasting services bands licence in the same licence area
- (f) the undesirability of the Commonwealth, a state or a territory or a political party being in a position to exercise control of a community broadcasting licence.

For the purposes of paragraph (ba), material is of local significance if:

- (a) it is hosted in the licence area of the proposed licence; or
- (b) it is produced in the licence area of the proposed licence; or
- (c) it relates to the licence area of the proposed licence.

The ACMA may refuse to renew the licence after considering the matters listed at subsection 84(2) of the Broadcasting Services Act 1992 (see section 91(2A)).

Please note the ACMA may request additional material to complete our assessment.

Community broadcasting services

Community broadcasting services are defined in section 15 of the Broadcasting Services Act 1992 as broadcasting services that:

- (a) are provided for community purposes
- (b) are not operated for profit or as part of a profit-making enterprise
- (c) provide programs that:
 - (i) are able to be received by commonly available equipment
 - (ii) are made available free to the general public
- (d) comply with any determinations or clarifications under section 19 in relation to community broadcasting services.

Compliance requirements

Community radio broadcasting licensees are required to comply with the licence conditions set out in parts 1, 2 and 5 of Schedule 2 to the Broadcasting Services Act 1992.
