Subject: Tighten codes on Alcohol sales, Violence and Sexualised content.

Message Body:

The research evidence is very clear our young people are significantly influenced by what they consume on screens. I don't grieve that the codes place sufficient limits on shows, sport and advertising during day time hours when young people into their teens are actively viewing. Areas of visual violence, sexualising content, drug and alcohol promotion by companies should all be more closely managed by the codes to safeguard children and young people. Children are the most vulnerable part of our society. Thank you
