

ID	Did you find the presentation useful?	If you found the presentation useful, why? If you did not find the presentation useful, why not?	How well did the presentation meet? What did you like most about the presentation?
1	Yes		Exceeded my expectations
2	Yes		Met expectations
3	Yes	Was well tailored and pitched to the audience	Exceeded my expectations
4	Yes	good examples given made it useful and relatable	Exceeded my expectations
5	Yes	Useful scripts to use when in certain situations. Made me think from a perspective that i don't usually think from.	Exceeded my expectations
6	Yes	the information was presented clearly and set out concrete actions	Exceeded my expectations
7	Yes	Excellent reminder for staff to be mindful of the power of language and the good it results in when it's inclusive.	Met expectations
8	Yes	started the conversation into inclusivity vs exclusivity in the workplace	Met expectations
9	Yes	Highlighting problematic behaviours in the workplace helps set expectations for a safe workplace	Met expectations
10	Yes	I found it useful in that it provided broad principles and some stock phrases you could use in some situations about language at work.	Met expectations
11	No	I felt as though she was disrespecting the conservative views which I hold (e.g. making jokes about the 'woke agenda').	Did not meet my expectations
12	Yes	better understanding of some of the challenges colleagues are facing	Met expectations
13	Yes	Good reminder about importance of language in our every day interactions	Met expectations
14	Yes	Emphasis on changing language and need to evolve with it - and impacts on different groups	Exceeded my expectations
15	Yes	While the presentation was a good refresher and opportunity to spark broader conversations, the content itself was a little too black and white, and good have engaged more in nuance	Met expectations
16	Yes	Both reminded me about the importance of inclusive language and introduced new perspectives/issues	Met expectations
17	Yes	I appreciated SES putting this topic on our agenda in this way. The 2 frameworks presented (for inclusion at work and for responding to problematic language) were broadly applicable. Sheetal seemed to struggle with the quiet audience (as do many presenters to the ACMA) -- I think this needs to be part of the brief to guests so they can manage that and warm people up gradually. Some of the quizzes with yes/no answers may not bring people along for the journey (people who are already on board will know the right answer and those with more to learn may feel less comfortable speaking up).	Exceeded my expectations
18	Yes	Great reminder that language, behaviour is important, and senior staff endorsing the content	Met expectations
19	Yes	She had some good reminders and suggestions for phrases to use to call out behaviour	Met expectations
20	No	I feel that the key points could have been communicated more efficiently, particularly as the majority of the audience was already across the points being raised. For example a short hand out with suggested ways of ensuring inclusion, or common examples where staff may feel excluded and how to act differently.	Did not meet my expectations
21	Yes	different perspectives of how language can be interpreted	Met expectations
22	Yes	Provided an opportunity for staff to share personal experiences in the workplace/set the standard/avoids room for plausible deniability for poor behaviour	Met expectations
23	Yes	Gave great examples of how to avoid using language in the workplace that would cause offence/hurt. Presented in a very succinct way.	Met expectations
24	Yes	A very good facilitator who ran a good discussion and explained terminology well and created a safe space for people to make comments/share	Exceeded my expectations
