Thanks Jeanette – I have accepted your changes and just added another – it didn't seem to make sense about authorising the broadcast of the count itself

The final part of this puzzle is we will be publishing the outcome of the investigation on the ACMA website.

This will be different as we have only published investigations with contravention findings. Given we have provided Sportsbet and IRPSX the reasons for our decision, I believe we should also publish them.

I have prepared the information to publish for your review – it is based on the updated version of the letter to Sportsbet.
