Dear Sir/Madam

Contravention of the Australian Interactive Gambling Act 2001 – Dama N.V.

The Australian Communications and Media Authority (the ACMA) is responsible for investigating and taking enforcement action for contraventions of the Australian Interactive Gambling Act 2001 (the IGA).

The ACMA has recently completed an investigation into the Woo Casino service made available at <https://www.woocasino90.com>.

The ACMA found that Dama N.V. contravened subsection 15AA(3) of the IGA by providing an unlicensed regulated interactive gambling service to Australian customers.

On 31 January 2025, the ACMA advised Dama N.V. of the ACMA's preliminary contravention findings. No response was received.

The ACMA finalised the investigation on 19 February 2025. The ACMA issued a Formal Warning to Dama N.V. under section 64A of the IGA on 25 February 2025.

Dama N.V. has previously been found by the ACMA to have contravened 15(2A) of the IGA as the Woo Casino service also provides prohibited interactive gambling services to Australian customers.

If Dama N.V. continues to provide unlicensed regulated interactive gambling services to persons physically located in Australia, the ACMA may take further action.

I have attached a copy of the Formal Warning issued to Dama N.V. as well as the key provisions of the IGA.

We have brought this matter to your attention as the online gaming licence register on the Curaçao Gaming Control Board website indicates that Dama N.V. was granted an online gaming licence on 23 August 2024. We understand that findings of illegal activity relating to entities licenced by the Curaçao Gaming Control Board may be relevant to you.

We would appreciate it if you could forward this Formal Warning to Dama N.V. to ensure that it has been brought to their attention.

If you have any questions on the above, please contact me at [REDACTED].

Thank you for your engagement in this process.

Yours sincerely
